Woots Event is young of full of energy. Most important thing is, the event (team building) they planned for us, was not just ordinary team building but purposely specifying to our particular group, so eventually the group would find out the core value of ourselves. Well done Woots Event 👍

Lee Teik Khoon Thanks to Woots Event that organised an online Team Building for BNI Quantum last Friday. The event was well planned. The first session ensured we knew our team members well while the second session encouraged collaboration. Our time well spent. ...

TESTIMONIALS

1. What does Passion look like? Although it was only a half day virtual event, it was probably the most intense one for my career despite 7 TechEd events. In the heart of a lockdown across the world, a crazy idea to do a multi-track event made possible with a team and crew of less than 10 people.

Just like any activity, we had problems. It would be a big lie, if I said otherwise. It is through these problems from simply being short handed and everyone multi-hatting with too many roles even talented individuals found themselves deep in situations, this team brought sanity and balance by bringing a face to passion.

This face of passion can only be described in world class and first class attitudes enriched with perseverance and very hard work. I felt intense energy from this team who call themselves, Woots.

Without saying, my next event will be supported and enriched by the face of passion by Woots.

2. Zoey is a great coordinator and liaison when it comes to events and camps. She works hard to meet client's needs and is detailed in her planning. She is friendly and approachable, allowing us to be open with our constraints and issues. Overall a great person to work with.

3. Well organised, creative, professional and affordable event services. Zoey was amazing all around, Candy's Bees grand opening would not have happened without her. I will definitely intro Woots Event to others
